DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372. This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

- Invention 1     Claims 1-8 and 10-12, drawn to a fusion protein and detergent composition comprising said fusion protein.
- Invention 2     Claim 9, drawn to a DNA sequence coding for melamine-binding proteins.
- Invention 3     Claim 13, drawn to a process for delivering agent to a fabric by treating with a composition comprising a fusion protein.

The inventions listed as Inventions 1-3 do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

A same or corresponding technical feature shared among Inventions 1-3 is a fusion protein comprising a carbohydrate binding domain and a domain having a high binding affinity for a microcapsule comprised of or containing a melamine based chemical component. However, the combination of the references of Davis et al. (WO 01/46357, published 06/28/2001; PTO 1449 of IDS filed 05/11/2006) and Uchiyama et al. (WO 03/089019, published 10/30/2003; PTO 1449 of IDS filed 05/11/2006) teaches such fusion protein.

Davis et al. teaches a fusion protein comprising a carbohydrate binding domain and a domain having high binding affinity for another ligand, where the said domain includes antibodies that can be generated that are specific for almost any protein, organic molecule, or cell surface that is likely to be encountered (see entire publication and claims, especially section 1.2.1

on page 5). Davis et al. teach microcapsules having melamine as chemical component and their use as carriers of benefit agents (see entire publication).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to for one of ordinary skill in the art to make a fusion protein comprising a carbohydrate binding domain and an antibody having high affinity for a microcapsule comprised of or containing a melamine based chemical component by combining the teachings of Davis et al. and Davis et al.

Thus, the same or corresponding technical feature is not special since it was known in the prior art and therefore cannot make a contribution over the prior art. Since the inventions lack the same or corresponding special technical feature, then the inventions listed as Inventions 1-3 are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
